DANCE MUSIC.

THE ROYAL BRIDAL GALOP. Illustrated. 3s.

"This is a simple, but very charming composition, and one which we think will become popular from its very simplicity and freshness. The title-page contains excellent tinted portraits of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales."—Newcastle Chronicle.

THE DIANA QUADRILLE. Dedicated by permission to the Right Hon. Earl Fitzwilliam, K.G. 3s.

"A collection of the most popular hunting songs and glees, exceedingly well adapted to the instrument, and to the purpose for which they are intended. Indeed, it would be difficult to obtain better arrangements of the melodies in any form, and, as a quadrille, it is, taken altogether, one of the most satisfactory that has come under our notice for some time. The title-page is beautifully illustrated in colours—the subject being a hunting scene, with a statue of the huntress par excellence in the foreground."—Newcastle Daily Chronicle.

BREAKFAST BEVERAGE.—Homœopathic practitioners, and the medical profession generally, recommend Cocoa as being the most healthful of all beverages. When the doctrine of homœopathy was first introduced into this country, there were to be obtained no preparations of cocoa either attractive to the taste or acceptable to the stomach: the nut was either supplied in the crude state, or so unskillfully manufactured as to obtain little notice. J. Epps, of London, Homœopathic Chemist, was induced, in the year 1839, to turn his attention to this subject, and at length succeeded, with the assistance of elaborate machinery, in being the first to produce an article pure in its composition, and so refined by the perfect trituration it receives in the process it passes through, as to be most acceptable to the delicate stomach. For general use Epps's Cocoa is distinguished as an invigorating, grateful breakfast beverage, with a delicious aroma. Dr. Hassall, in his work, "Food and its Adulterations," says:—"Cocoa contains a great variety of important nutritive principles—every ingredient necessary to the growth and sustenance of the body." Again: "As a nutritive, cocoa stands very much higher than either coffee or tea." Directions—Two tea-spoonfuls of the powder in a breakfast cup, filled up with boiling water or milk. Secured in tin-lined ¼lb., ½lb. and 1lb. labelled packets, and sold by grocers, confectioners, and chemists. Each packet is labelled "J. Epps, Homœopathic Chemist, 112, Great Russell-street; 170, Piccadilly; 48, Threadneedle-street: Manufactory, 398, Euston-road."
